Dulles Believes Reds May Block East-West Talks

Sources Say Official Thinks Reds Will Find Point to Quibble Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources here said today Secretary of State Dulles has doubts — in light of past experiences with the Russians — that new East-West disarmament talks will ever be held.

Dulles reportedly feels the Russians are likely to find some minor reason to quibble over setting up the talks, making it impossible to make arrangements.

But in Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko called today for a special session of the United Nations or an international conference to discuss disarmament.

Rejects Foreign Ministers Meeting

Russia Calls For Special Arms Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government called today for a special session of the United Nations or an international conference to discuss disarmament.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said disarmament talks could pave the way for an East-West summit conference.

Addressing Russia's parliament, Gromyko apparently rejected a foreign ministers meeting on disarmament proposed Thursday by the 15 NATO nations.

The West has consistently blocked all disarmament efforts in the U.N., Gromyko said, and you can judge for yourselves what sort of result can be expected from a meeting of foreign ministers under these conditions.

Gromyko did not specify which nations should attend an international conference, though he indicated Red China should not be left out. In the recent session of the U.N. General Assembly, Russia insisted that all 32 U.N. members — which do not include Red China — should take part in disarmament talks.

That assembly session increased the U.N. Disarmament Commission to 25 members but Russia has declared she will boycott the commission.

Appointments Announced By Mayor-elect

Safety Director Is Retained; Vincent To Succeed Feiler

Mayor-elect Harold D. Smith announced today his selection of Dr. Richard J. McConnor as city safety director and Harry M. Vincent, a former mayor, as service director.

The appointments are the first to be announced by Mr. Smith, who on Jan. 1 will succeed Mayor Dean B. Crammer in office.

Dr. McConnor, who resides at 785 Aetna St., has been safety director in Mayor Crammer's administration for the last three years.

Releases Statement

In making his announcement of the doctor's choice to be retained as head of the safety department, which includes the police and fire departments, Mayor-elect Smith said:

"I feel that Dr. McConnor has not had the opportunity to actually manage and supervise the safety department and I feel that we can show marked improvement in that department by the mayor and safety director working together.

"It is my belief that, although these department heads are directly responsible to the mayor, much more can be accomplished if they are given full responsibility for the management of their departments, consulting with the mayor on matters of policy.

"After consulting with Dr. McConnor I am convinced that he has a lot of good ideas and should be permitted to put them into operation."

Vincent Familiar With Job

The mayor-elect, in announcing his choice of former Mayor Vincent for the service director post, said he felt Mr. Vincent's past experience in service department operations will contribute much to the efficiency of that phase of his administration.

Mr. Vincent, who resides at 443 S. Union Ave., was a member of City Council for 10 years and served two terms as mayor of Salem. Both he and Mr. Smith are Republicans.

Vincent, who served in Council from 1940 to '50, was mayor from 1950 to 1954. A pottery worker, he will succeed James Feiler as service director.

Oscar McCommon, who has been street foreman for the past four years, will be retained in that capacity, Smith said.

Thieves Enter House, Steal Yule Presents

Thieves entered a house at 467 W. 6th St. between 10:15 p.m. and midnight Friday and stole four Christmas Presents valued at $35 that were on a stand near the front door.

Anna Tutor, owner of the house, told police that the thieves gained entrance through the unlocked back door and apparently left through the front door. The house was unoccupied at the time of the theft.

A cigarette lighter and a $1 in change also were taken, police said.

The thieves ransacked the bureau drawers in the bedroom.

'Haul' Is More Than Expected

A&P Safes Thwart Ambitious Thieves

An unsuccessful attempt to steal two 2,400-pound safes from the A & P Store manager's office was made between 4 and 5 this morning.

Police Lt. Martin Lutsch, the investigating officer, called the safe-cracking attempt "a professional job done by men who obviously knew what they were doing but not how to do it."

The safecrackers, who were after Friday's receipts, wrecked the office while trying to drag the cumbersome safes to a truck parked near the entrance of the store facing on S. Lundy Ave. John Martin, the manager, gave no estimate of the damage caused.

The amount of money in the safes was not disclosed, either.

The thieves gained entrance by breaking the two-inch plate glass door in the front of the store.

Then they wrapped heavy chains around the safes and tried to pull them from the supermarket.

Lutsch said the weight of the safes foiled the intruders.

Marks on the side of a pole about eight feet from the entrance showed that the thieves attempted to winch the two safes from the market.

None of the merchandise nor a bag of coins in the manager's office was taken, police said.

Police believe the intruders entered the store between 4:15 and 5 a.m. since two patrolmen checked the building on their nightly rounds at 4 a.m. and found nothing amiss.

The theft was reported by two

Railroads Seeking Freight Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's major railroads have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) for authority to increase freight rates on a selective basis.

In a petition filed Thursday, the rail carriers said the boosts — which reportedly will average 3 per cent — are needed to offset additional expenses.

The petition did not specify the increases, being sought, but the new rates are said to be ready for submission Monday if the ICC should approve the application.

The rate changes, if the ICC permits them to be published, would become effective after 20 days unless protests were filed with the commission. In that case the ICC usually calls for hearings.

In the petition, filed by all Class I railroads, the carriers referred to a general rate hike which was granted last Aug. 6, and added the ICC said at that time a further moderate increase might be sought to cover additional expenses anticipated by the end of the year.

4 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

Highway Patrolmen Cite 3 Motorists

Four persons were hurt and three were cited in three highway mishaps which occurred between 3:10 p.m. and 3:50 p.m. Friday on area highways, state highway patrolmen reported.

A Steubenville man's wife and two children were injured when his car was struck head-on by an auto driven by Louise M. Goppert, 33, of Salineville on Rt. 39, two miles west of Westville, at 3:30.

Injured were:

Mrs. Justis Parrish, 31, lacerations of the chin and two broken teeth; the couple's son, Judd, 6½, multiple lacerations and abrasions of the legs; and their daughter, Patricia, 10, contusions of the right leg.

The injured people were treated at the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville.

Both autos were extensively damaged.

Mrs. Goppert was cited for driving left of center, patrolmen said.

A 22-year-old Lisbon man was hurt when his car crashed into the rear of an auto driven by James B. Church, 75, of RD 3, Salem, on Rt. 45, one mile south of Salem, at 3:10. Church was attempting to make a left turn when the mishap occurred.

Robert L. Senior received multiple abrasions and contusions of the scalp and left knee. He was treated at City Hospital.

Both cars were extensively damaged. Senior was cited for failing to stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

The third mishap occurred on alternate Rt. 14, one mile north-west of Salem, at 3:50 when a car driven by Carl M. DeLand, 64, of 491 Benton Road was struck in the rear by an auto operated by Cora D. Crizer, 21, of RD 1, Salem.

Minor damages were caused to the two cars involved.

DeLand was cited for driving left of center, patrolmen said.

Authorities Search For Gun-Toting Thief

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Police and sheriff's deputies today hunted a shotgun-toting man who got away with about $7,000 in robbery of a cafe operator in nearby Fairfield.

Police said Nicola Langdon, the victim, told them the man halted him Friday night as he came out of the Langdon home enroute to work. After firing one shot for emphasis, the man fled with a paper bag holding the money, Langdon said.

Columbus Meeting Fails To Resolve Court Problems

The various problems faced by Columbiana County officials in setting up the new county court system to replace justices of the peace were not solved at a conference in Columbus Friday arranged by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe and his aides.

More than 100 judges-lect, county prosecutors and common pleas judge attended the session in the Seneca Hotel there.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw did not arrive at the conference until it was over. He said his plane was delayed over Scranton, Pa., and did not take off from Pittsburgh until late in the afternoon.

Brokaw said he talked with Kenneth A. Robinson, house judicial committee leader, but the particular problems facing Columbiana County were not solved or ruled on.

John Fitch of Lisbon and Luther Donbar of Columbiana two of the new judges, attended the session and told Brokaw the problems were not mentioned.

Sam Crawford of Madison Township, the other judge, did not attend.

Brokaw said one of the primary problems is where to house prisoners such as those charged with drunken driving and misdemeanor.

Petition Of Elkrun Area Is Ruled Valid

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp ruled Friday afternoon that the Elkrun petition is valid.

The petition requests the transfer of the Elkrun area from Beaver Local School District to the Lisbon Exempted School District.

Judge Sharp found that signature of Herschel Barnes was a valid signature and that Capt. William Jessie Bott was not a qualified elector in Elkrun township and this made the 75 per cent valid voters on the petition that was refused by the County Board of Education Nov. 26 as invalid because it didn't have the 75 per cent of the valid petition.

The judge also ruled that if the defendants (county board) reject the petition to transfer the territory to Lisbon from Beaver Local District they are ordered to submit the petition resolution of rejection and map of the area to the state school board within the ten days as required by law.

This is a ruling in the mandamus action filed by W. H. McMillen, one of the petitioners, against the Columbiana County School Board for the 9-square mile area along the eastern boundary of Center township which is now part of Beaver Local School District.

As a result of the court's decision the County School Board will meet Monday night to decide a course of action.

U.S. Scholarship Plans In Offing

Congress to Consider Several Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposals for some sort of federal scholarship program probably will be offered in the new congressional session starting Jan. 7.

Rep. Barden (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, said today his committee "has been giving consideration to a program and will very likely make some expression of its views during the next session."

Barden, reached by telephone at his home in New Bern, N.C., said he preferred not to comment at this time on the proposals made yesterday by the National Education Assn.

The NEA suggested the federal government start an educational support program of indefinite length which would increase in cost from about 1.1 billion dollars the first year to about 4.8 billion doars in five years.

The NEA program includes proposals for college scholarships for at least 20,000 high school graduates each year, and at least 5,000 fellowships annually for university graduate study.

A statement from the NEA legislative commission suggested scholarship awards might average $1,200 per year to start and fellowships $3,000 per year. That would make the total starting cost for scholarships and fellowships about 40 million dollars annually. This would increase to about 160 millions in four years.

Twenty-seven bills proposing federal scholarships in higher education have been referred to the House Education Committee. Six of them relate to scientific scholarships.

The NEA program, in addition to the scholarships and fellowships, proposes:

1. At least 25 million dollars a year for expansion of services of state education agencies in all fields, not alone in science and

Church Services to Re-tell Story of Saviour's Birth

Programs to Proclaim 'Tidings of Great Joy'

"And the angel said unto them, 'Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy...'"

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Hundreds of Salem worshippers again this year will celebrate the great story of the Nativity, special services in sermon and song being scheduled in local and district churches Sunday and others on Christmas Day.

The birth of the Christ Child will be retold from the pulpits and heralded in anthems by choirs.

The procession to the crib will open the solemn Mass in St. Paul Catholic Church at midnight on Christmas Eve. Masses have been scheduled throughout Christmas Day.

Three choral groups will participate in the Christmas vespers service.

St. Paul's

The procession to the Crib will open the Christmas solemn Mass at midnight Christmas eve at St. Paul Church. The high school and junior high school girls will join the women's choir in singing "Veni in Bethlehem" and "What Lovely Infant Can This Be?"

The Gregorian Mass No. XII will be sung by the same choir. Miss Sarah Colman will be at the organ for the midnight and 10:30 a.m. Mass Christmas Day.

Children's Mass will be at 8:45 a.m. Christmas Day. They will sing traditional Christmas hymns.

The schedule for confessions is as follows: Sunday, 3 to 5:30 p.m.; Monday, 10 to 11:30 a.m., 3 to 5:30, and 7:30 to 9 p.m.; Tuesday, 10 to 11:30 a.m. and 3 to 6 p.m. There will be no confessions Tuesday evening.

Tuesday, the Vigil of Christmas, is a day of fast and complete abstinence.

Trinity Lutheran

"Advent: Who are You?" will be the sermon theme of Rev. George D. Keister at the Sunday morning service in the Salem Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

The annual Christmas program by the members of the Sunday School will be presented instead of their regular Sunday schedule at 11 a.m.

The Advent Candle-Lighting Service narrated by Judy Darnier will be a part of the morning service. Mary Lou Anderson will be the candle-lighter this Sunday.

The Luther League will meet at the church at 6:30 p.m. to sing carols to the sick and shut-in members of the church.

After the caroling, the league members will return to the church for a fellowship meeting. Gifts for members of the County Home may be brought to the church.

The committee in charge of the meeting is Lois Schaefer, James Yakes, Tony Everett, Kathy Karpofel, Ronald Rhodes, Maxine Allison, Donald Wukotich. The fellowship will be in charge of Gordon Scullion.

The Christmas Midnight candle-light service will be held Tuesday at 11 p.m. Special music will be presented by the Junior and Senior Chorus.

The Christmas meditation, "Christmas is for You" will be given by Rev. George D. Keister at the midnight service.

Religion at Work

By EUGENE CARR

Suppose There Were No Christmas!

As we approach another Christmas Day, with all its excitement and anticipation, and listen once again to the old, old story in sermon and song, there comes the thought, "Suppose there were no Christmas?"

What would the world be like today? How would life be different, your life and mine?

Dec. 25, 1957, would be just another Wednesday on the calendar.

The alarm clock would ring at the usual time and we would start the day, each in his accustomed manner.

Children would go off to school, husbands would leave for their places of work, housewives would busy themselves with their daily chores.

There would be no holiday traffic jam and travel rush, no family reunions or festive gatherings. There would be no year-end gift-selling season. The Christmas gift would be unknown.

Life in December would be very different, and so would life be different in April 1958 and throughout all the months of the year. For, if there were no Christmas, there would be no Easter.

If there were no herald angels or guiding star or curious shepherds or probing wise men in December, there would be no springtime resurgence of hope in this life or in the life eternal. There would be no Easter without Christmas.

The meaning of the whole story, the linking together of life and hope, the inseparableness of birth and death would be lacking. There would be no personal participation in worship, for a personal relationship with God would be unknown.

MANKIND would still be without power within himself — a groping, undetermined, indecisive religious wanderer. He would be the subject of pagan rulers, for God's humanity would not be a part of established life and living.

There would be no freedom of choice, no independence of thought and action, no feeling of being a child of God above all else.

This is what it would be like if there were no Christmas. This is what it would be like without the greatest of all Christmas gifts. This is what it would be like without the life and death and life again that brings God and man face to face in the everyday experience of man's existence on this earth.

How would you like it?

Where you can Learn How Prayer Heals

Many people have been healed of apparently hopeless troubles and diseases through prayer in Christian Science.

They have found a better way of life. They have gained, or regained, peace and confidence.

The method of such prayer is fully explained in SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

It is a spiritual understanding of God and of man in His "image and likeness," as the Bible teaches. Anyone can learn how to pray understandingly, effectively, by thoughtful study of Science and Health.

You may read, borrow or purchase Science and Health at any Christian Science Reading Room, or send $3 and a copy will be mailed postpaid.

Rogers WCTU Has Yule Dinner, Party

ROGERS — A coverdinner was a highlight of the Christmas party and December meeting of the Rogers Woman's Christian Temperance Union held recently at the home of Mrs. Bessie Pike.

Following the noon dinner, Mrs. Ida Morris, president, called the session to order with a prayer by Mrs. Ruby McMillan.

Silent Night was sung by the group and Mrs. Morris gave the worship call "Story of Nativity."

Thirteen members answered roll call with one visitor present.

For the scripture reading members answered with a favored Bible verse. A reading by Mrs. Morris was entitled, "The Legend of the Christmas Rose."

Program guides committee members were introduced and about 30 Christmas cards were signed to be sent to shut-ins.

A gift exchange was enjoyed, and a special gift was presented to Mrs. Morris from the society.

Damascus Friends
Rev. William A. Atchison will speak on "Why He Came" at the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday in Damascus Friends Church. Junior Church at 10:30 a.m. will be directed by Rev. Jane Huff.

Virgil Cobbs will convene Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., assisted by Robert Bell, Etta Close and Mary Wultrick.

The Rebecca Coleman Circle will lead vespers at the Valley Road Rest Home at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Christian Endeavor Societies will meet at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday the annual Christmas program will be presented. The High School classes, taught by Dorothy Atchison and Herbert Whitecher, and the Post High Class taught by Kenneth Cobbs, are sponsors of the program.

Bunker Hill Methodists Have New Edifice

Members of the congregation of the Bunker Hill Methodist Church will worship in their new edifice, pictured above, Sunday morning.

Rev. Ralph Fotia's sermon topic will be "Reason For Rejoicing."

Construction of the new church and Sunday school rooms was the result of a fund-raising drive which started two years ago after a tornado demolished the former church building.

A consecration service at the Bunker Hill Church has been scheduled for Feb. 2. Although the main sanctuary has been completed, the Sunday school annex is not finished on the interior and classes are being held temporarily in the parsonage.

During the time that the Bunker Hill Methodists were without a church building, worship services have been held in the Goshen Grange hall.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
A Candle At Christmas

This is a story told by the late Queen Marie of Roumania and it comes from a small village where the people were so poor that the only church they could afford was a ramshackle wooden building from which all the paint had long since withered away.

The village stood at the edge of the forest and, on the other side of the forest was a town far richer than the poor little village. It boasted a beautiful new church with fine bells and a gold altar. And, somehow, the people of the village came to believe that prayers said in the church in town were much more likely to reach the ear of God than prayers said in their own poor little church.

BUT THE PATH FROM the village to town was not an easy one and, even worse, halfway through the forest it passed a well which had the reputation of being haunted. No one passed it without throwing a coin into it as an offering; it was said that if you did not do this, a creature from the well would drag you down into it and you would never be seen again.

One bitterly cold, dark night — a Christmas Eve — a little boy hurried along that path to town. He had no coins at all; he carried only a small taper and five matches. Back in the village, his widowed mother was dying and he hoped to light his taper on the altar of the beautiful church in town and pray that her life might be saved.

The boy had never gone to the town alone before, let alone at night. And there whad always been a coin for the haunted well. Now, as he approached it, he hugged the trees on the other side. Perhaps he would not be noticed.

But as he passed the well, a moan came from it. He started to run but tripped on a root and was thrown to its very edge, looking down into its mysterious depths. A voice came up at him, a shrill child's voice: "Help me out! Help me out! If you throw me down your taper and matches I can see my way."

THE BOY GASPED, wondering how the voice knew about his taper and matches, and replied: "I can't. The candle is for my mother. She is dying and I must light this on the altar of the big church so that she can get well."

"Who will miss your candle in that church?" the voice asked. "There are many burning there now. Give it to me instead."

"But I can't; it's the only one I have. If my mother dies, I'll be an orphan, all alone. I must take it to the church."

The voice from the well took on a pleading note: "This is the night of Christ's birth; in His name I ask you. Give me your taper. Can you refuse what I ask in His name on His night?"

THE BOY THOUGHT for a minute and was overcome with grief. He knew that he could not refuse, even if it meant that his mother might die. He threw the can-die and matches into the well and fell weeping on his knees.

Suddenly the air was filled with music and light, and there, stepping out of the well before him, was the Christ Child holding the little taper in His hand. But from seemed great enough to light the whole world.

"Go back home," said the Child. "Your mother is waiting for you. I will take your candle to church."

The boy ran home as though he had wings on his feet. And there was his mother, up out of bed and waiting for him, as though she had never been ill. He fell into her arms and hugged her and they both cried.

LATER, THEY WENT TO the village church together to give thanks. The old building looked as decrepit as ever, but when they entered it was filled with light. Yet only one little taper burned at the altar and from it came a radiance that filled the church with beauty. And, as the boy stared at the little taper, he realized that it was his own.

For love is only a little taper, yet it lights the whole world. Never does it burn so bright as at Christmas when it reminds us of the words that celebrated the birth of the child Jesus: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Let this candle burn in your own heart and light it in the hearts of others and we can be sure that this Christmas — and all the Christmases to come — God will bless us, every one.

CANDLE IN THE NIGHT

Simplest, humblest gleam of light . . . yet it rolls back the shadows. And striking the new-fallen snow, it casts a dazzling halo upon boughs of pine and holly.

Like a candle in the night Christmas rolls back the shadows of time, and touching the life of man, gives an aura of peace and good will to every day and deed.

It was truly the simplest and humblest event in history, this birth of a child in a stable. But from it shines "the true Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." And to live in that Light, to reflect it upon the world around us; this is peace and good will.

Like a candle in the night the Church beckons us to the gleam of its ageless Truth. And as we come to live by the Church's teaching, our faith will roll back the shadows for those around us.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Waiting For a Green Light

No secret is being made in Paris of a widening breach of opinion between the adamant position of the U.S. delegation that conversation with the Kremlin is a waste of time and the position of other NATO nations that it is foolhardy to pass up the possibility that the Kremlin might have some thing to say that should be heard at this time.

Because there is no secret being made of a widening breach of opinion in the United States on the same matter, it would appear to be an urgent necessity that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles must explain to their own countrymen why they have taken such a position.

It is not enough to brush off hope that there may be something in store besides all-out nuclear warfare as evidence of the naivete of the American people, or as proof of the success of Russian propagandists.

If the purpose of the NATO meeting is to create better understanding among the member nations, the United States must take their views into consideration. Even if it is sure the Kremlin is incapable of ever acting in good faith, there still is something to be gained by listening to its proposals, instead of rejecting them without a hearing. There is propaganda to be made on the NATO side, too, in the battle for men's minds.

THERE IS, presumably, something the Kremlin could do to open the possibility it might be taken at its word when it says — as Premier Bulganin said in his now-famous letter — that it wants to create confidence.

This would have to be an action, as opposed to a promise. It would have to be a voluntary action, something it had not been "resured" into doing.

Ideally, it would be some move to allay misgivings about its suspected intention to resort to violence to carry out some infringement on the non-Russian world — a deliberate gesture of good faith.

And to clinch the effect of the gesture, there would need to be assurance of further acts to follow, provided the first one was accepted at face value and balanced in kind by the West.

Unless this can be thought of as a possibility, the only hope of peace that remains in the world consists of a massive standoff of military might, increasing week by week and month by month until one side or the other is crushed by the weight of its preparations for a war neither side wants to wage.

There is implicit in that hope the gnawing fear that at any time a blunder of executive decision-making might set off the nuclear Armageddon that no one could win.

THE NATO GOVERNMENTS in Paris are looking for something better than that. They do not like the apparent proposition being offered by the United States, that nothing can be hoped for as far as the Kremlin is concerned and therefore the only recourse of the non-Communist nations is to prepare for the worst and quit dreaming of anything better than the worst.

The firmness of the President and the secretary of state can be respected as a diplomatic tactic and still be questioned as an international stratagem. It confronts NATO and the rest of the free world with too hard a choice. Their spokesmen have every right to doubt that they could convince their own people there is no other choice that might be made, or that might at least be sought, there is a visible and growing restlessness could be sold in the United States, where there is a visible land growing restlessness about adamancy that shuts out the possibility of negotiation.

Ignorance Is Not Bliss

Most astounding of the discoveries being made about the Soviet Union's surprising progress in technology is the presence in the United States of thousands of Russian treaties containing what Americans had thought was secret information.

The treaties had not been translated. They were in dead storage in the Library of Congress. In one Soviet magazine for radio amateurs, the radio frequencies to be used in the two Sputniks were fully described. In another instance, complete information about an electric circuit that had cost U.S. industries a large sum of money to develop already was available — from Russia.

The Russian material now is being combed through frantically for useful material. Here, again, the United States must make up lost ground. The Soviet Union has been translating everything it could get its hands on for years. It is probably that more is known about some fields of U.S. technology by Russian scientists than is known by their counterparts in this country.

Many of America's guarded secrets never have been secrets, except to Americans. Russians knew all about them by reading scientific publications. The irony is that the hush-hush psychology that kept ordinary citizens in the dark also was keeping officialdom in the dark.

Ignorance is bliss.

Once Over

This Christmas it will be a case of 'Home, Sweet Missile Station.' Parents had better start planning their defense program at once. "Mommer, buy me a Jupiter," and "Aw, Daddy, can't I have a Thor?" is the 1957 cry of the moppets.

The demand is for playthings that will penetrate living-room outer-space and orbit around popper's nervous system.

It looks like a ballistic Christmas with the kiddies unhappy with any toy that lacks power propulsion and can't devastate the old homestead.

TOYMAKERS are out with satellite for any household and nursery, including launching bases, portable rocket bases and the Cape Canaveral touch. A power thrust sufficient to get any plaything through the roof, as well as through mommer, Aunt Tabitha and a couple of next-door neighbors is demanded by most children.

Watch the dog every minute or Junior may try to stuff him into the $9.98 gift-wrapped satellite.

Daddy took little Wilbert through the department store yesterday and it was a harrowing experience, leaving him less hopeful than ever of world peace in his or his son's lifetime. He made some notes on the kid's Christmas emphatic requirements. Here they are:

"Get a Polaris or Atlas if possible. Titan is good. Remember propulsion fuel. Be sure about trajectory and tracking range. Space-ship with real motor if possible.

Tell Uncle Ois not to send sacks but send ballistic missile available in all toy stores. See if Blank's Department store basement carries any rocket that solves problem of re-entry into lower atmosphere. Ask mother to look around for rocket-firing submarine." (Merry Christmas, one and all! And on the target!)

'Tis Mechanical to Err

The U.S. Army's hearty reassurance that all guided missile tests will be conducted with perfect safety between military bases and the public has nothing to fear is not reassuring.

There will be as much to fear from error as there is now, when everything man-made that flies is in imminent danger of falling.

Even though all missiles to be tested will be aimed through "corridors" containing little or no population, sooner or later some will go astray. Their built-in safety devices, which theoretically can explode them harmlessly far above the earth, will be no more fool-proof than man, himself.

Yet, there is nothing unusually alarming about the prospect of "missile fall-out." Air planes crash down on earthlings with monotonous regularity. Any day, Sputnik I and II will re-enter the earth's atmosphere and disintegrate, raining down bits and pieces.

One remembers all the meteorite fragments that are to be seen in travels about this country and all the blazing meteorites that pencil their fiery destruction in the canopy of night. The danger that missiles may be added to the "rain of terror" is insignificant.

Not until the missiles are being aimed at us will we go to ground with the hedgehogs and foxes.

ever since 1910, and known as "Fritz," was Shubert Alley's oldest inhabitant. When he began there the Ziegfeld Follies was just hitting its stride, and musical show hits were "Madame Sherry" with famous "Every Little Movement" song, and Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta." In another year Irving Berlin would write his first big hit "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Guess what song was destined to ring through the years was written around that year? "Down By The Old Millstream."

MARY MARTIN, in taking an "out" on long term TV contract, must have hummed, "I'm gonna wash that contract right out my hair."

It's easy to explain why that wire in the striking subway motormen's office was tapped: Somebody wanted to get at least one line operating.

They say the hypnotist succeeded in curing Don Newcombe of his fear of airplane travel but is now afraid himself.

A Detroit boy swallowed a watch. The problem now is how to "set" the kid and keep him going.

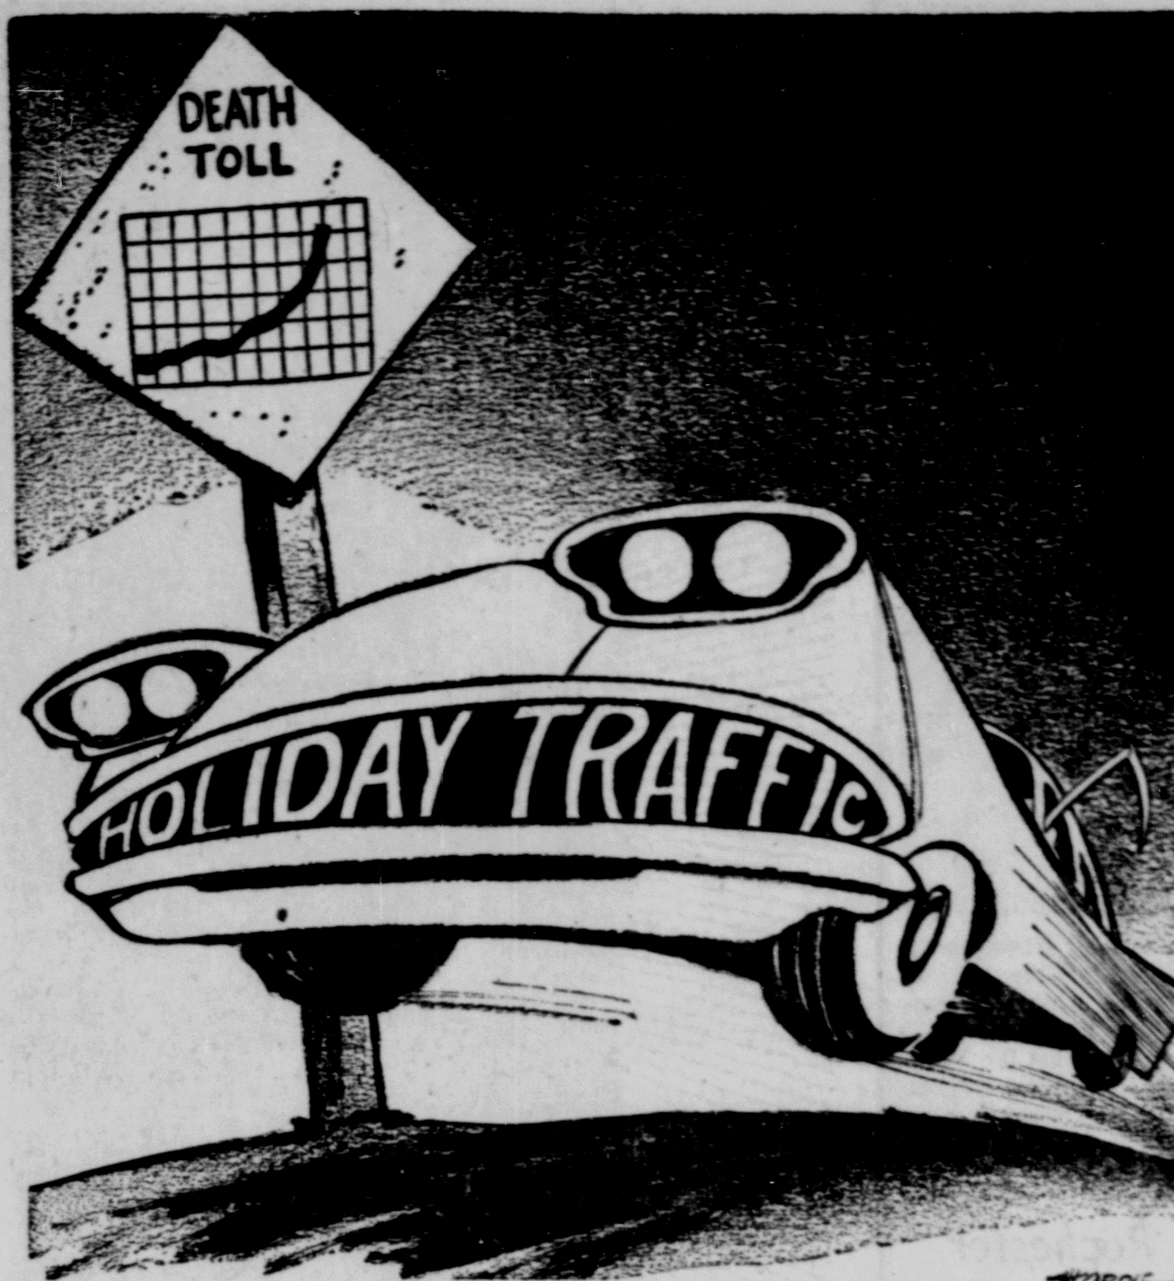

Peter Ustinov, who wrote and acts in "Romanoff and Juliet" and also writes, directs and takes part in TV shows, looks like a Russian but talks with an Oxford accent.

WERNER VON BRAUN, former Nazi missile chief, now working for Uncle Sam, could make good in the movies on good looks. Probably first time a scientist has been seen who could set bobby soxers screaming.

Last Sunday was proclaimed by bishops in several states as a day of sermons against reckless auto driving. But preachers didn't respond any too vigorously. This is hard to explain in view of the fact the spirit of Ten Commandments, especially "Thou shalt not kill," is blizzed by millions daily. The guy who drives a car imperiously, carelessly and dangerously, always endangering his fellow men, should be a coast-to-coast pulpit target, say we.

Why is it an automobile fan belt always seems to decide to break when the car is miles away from a garage.

Dangerous Curve Ahead

Things Have Changed

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This week's NATO meeting in Paris demonstrated—if it did nothing else—the profound change which occurred in the world in 1957.

This was the 22nd meeting of the 15 NATO nations' foreign ministers. Its importance was underscored by the presence of heads of state. The nations wound up still partners. But like the other meetings before it, this one produced neither miracles nor sensations.

However, it was in this year that Russia showed—with its Sputniks and missiles—that from now on no corner of the earth will be invulnerable to war. The realization of this spread a change over the face of NATO.

Until now the United States needed its European allies for two basic reasons:

1. Because they were the core of the noncommunist world. Without them this country would be isolated and have meager chance of eventual survival.

2. As a first line of defense for the United States. This country's bombers, using bases on allied soil and backed by allied armies, could hope to pin down a war on the opposite side of the Atlantic from the United States.

And, because they were the closest to Russia and might be overrun, this country's allies needed and wanted all the military help they could get from the United States.

But with the coming of the missile age this country became as close to Russia as its European partners. In fact, the Russian could fire over the head of those partners to hit the United States.

So now overseas bases on allied territory—this time for American missiles—became an asset even more precious than the bomber bases. Those bases would be just as much a protection for this country as for Europe.

It's no wonder—with this fact so obvious—that the allies at the NATO meeting began throwing their weight around, forcing the United States to listen to what they wanted and didn't want.

This country still retains NATO leadership but its influence has been lessened since Russia launched its Sputniks.

All 15 allied states agreed—because this country insisted—that the NATO countries should accept stockpiles of American nuclear weapons and missiles bases. But this has a big loophole in it. It was only an agreement in principle.

It was on the subject of dealing with Russia that the allies forced this country to listen to them.

This country—through its foreign policy spokesman, Secretary of State Dulles—had come to take a dim view of more talks with the Russians on disarmament or any of the other big East-West problems.

The allies—right in the center of an American-Russian missile war, if it started—wouldn't buy Dulles' attitude. They insisted that new attempts be made to talk with the Russians.

U.S. Derived Prestige From NATO Talks

They didn't really need to hold a conference of the heads of the 15 NATO governments just to work out the communique that was finally issued at Paris with unanimous agreement. Everything that was decided could have been worked out through the regular diplomatic channels without a fanfare.

David Lawrence

But fanfare is important nowadays. The big thing now is worldwide propaganda. In the six days that news flowed from the Paris meeting, the whole world got the impression of an alliance of free nations unafraid, an alliance ready to combine its military strength for defense, yet an alliance that is ready to discard armament the moment it becomes apparent that a dependable agreement can be reached with the other side.

This correspondent happens to have a short-wave radio set that brings in broadcasts from every part of the world. Listening every night to the voices of broadcasters in the different countries of Europe, Asia and the two Americas, and then listening also to the attempts by radio Moscow to belittle what was being done by NATO at Paris, gives a realistic feeling about the battle of the air waves.

thing nowadays to the selfish partisans striving to win political power for themselves.

It seems incredible that this very week in the British Parliament by the left-wing Socialists to bring about the cancellation of American bases for missiles and the stockpiling of nuclear weapons.

It is discouraging to note that in America there are Democrats of prominence in both Houses of Congress always ready to issue statements disparaging what their own government has done abroad — as if the American people will believe the worst, just because political opponents give voice to it.

President Eisenhower came out pretty well at Paris, even though he disappointed the prophets of gloom, who only a couple of weeks ago had drawn word pictures of a man utterly incapable of holding office or of exercising leadership.

There is no doubt that Mr. Eisenhower's friendly personality had its effect in the formal sessions and in private meetings with the heads of state.

He doesn't charm his listeners by oratory or by fancy phrases. But he does have the faculty of breathing a spirit of conciliation and sincerity that wins him the admiration and the confidence of the members of a conference such as was held this week at Paris.

WHILE THE SAME tangible results could doubtless have been accomplished by a conference of the foreign ministers of the same 15 countries, it was a "plus" in many ways that the President could be there, because it certainly added to the drama and propaganda value of the occasion.

To get the key to future events, it isn't the words of the all-inclusive communique which will need to be examined. It is what the political opposition in some of the West European countries—much of it insidiously inspired by Communist infiltrators—does in the court of public opinion.

Their struggle to prevent the establishment of American missile bases in Europe, along with the stockpiling of nuclear weapons, has just begun. The Communists will leave no stone unturned to accomplish their ends.

It will require the resoluteness of every government, whose spokesmen must conduct an aggressive campaign in the press and radio within each country, to prevent the Communists from persuading the average man that the West is bent on war, when the truth is it is striving only to build up enough deterrent power to prevent another world war.

Electrical Impulse

By TRUMAN TWILL

When I have nothing more pressing to do, I have an impulse to think electricity. In the Pittsburgh area, some of the electrical energy being fed into the distorting system now is being generated by atomic fission.

This makes it clearer than it used to when we kids generated electricity by rubbing a piece of silk over a Bakelite wand in physics class that electricity is merely the means of transferring energy.

The energy, itself, could be generated by chasing a hundred thousand horses on a treadmill, or by burning old income tax returns, or harnessing the tides. But to get it from where it starts to where it is going, electricity is handicapped.

Sometime later, a genius will figure out how to get it there without wires, and that will be harder than it is now with the things draped every which way and getting broken whenever a power pole adjacent to a highway gets knocked over by a careening car.

In the meantime, it would be a giant stride in the right direction if the wires could be put underground everywhere, the way they are in congested areas, where there finally came to be so many of them that they were blotting out the sky and becoming impossible to maintain.

But these are matters that will be worked out by electrical technicians, who strike me as being able to do all that is required of them, plus that much more. On a particular group of these supermen always has commanded my special admiration.

They are the rugged gents who wade into all the messy situations that develop after storms and accidents and bring order out of chaos. They do this with a minimum of fuss and bother. It strikes me as the most essential job in our kind of civilization.

The transmission of electrical energy has become our lifeline. When it is interrupted momentarily, just about everything we depend on to keep things ticking stops and falters. Without people who know what needs to be done and how to do it in j-b-time, we might as well go all the way back to candlelight, pump-handles and the thousand and one laborious, back-breaking chores whose performance once filled lives with drudgery and little ease.

Energy made available and put to purposeful use by imagination, as I think about it, is the secret of our physical way of life. And the secret of energy has been its distribution far and wide by electricity.

There even is the imminent possibility that the same sources of energy which make the sun the core of the planetary system we live in may soon be tapped for man's use by nuclear fusion right here on earth. That would be the ultimate triumph of man's mastery of his environment and it can happen if the befuddled men who are talking about using it to blow us up instead of liberating us from our despair can be straightened out in their heads.

It is a race between destruction and construction — the same race that apparently must be run whenever men gain access to a new kind of energy. The lever became the rack. Dynamite was used for bombs. Petroleum was put into fire bombs. But fission and fusion are not going to be monopolized by the nuclear blasters. There's hope.

Damascus Friends Class Has Dinner

DAMASCUS — A candlelight Christmas dinner was served for members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Friends Church Tuesday evening in the church basement.

A devotional period was then held at which time Rev. William Atchison, pastor, dedicated the new movie projector, which the Christian Endeavor members assisted in purchasing.

The Christmas story, "Raphael, the Herald Angel" was presented by Mrs. Donald Oswald. A film, "Found Wanting" was shown and Christmas carols, led by Kathy Filip, were sung.

A pin was presented Anna Marie Glassburn for securing the most subscriptions to the Evangelical Friend, the Church paper.

The remainder of the time was spent visiting and viewing films. Those serving were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oswald, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Shreve, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Steer and Mrs. Donald Saltzman. Harry Gologram was a guest. 36 were in attendance.

Christmas gifts were exchanged when the Jolly Neighbors Farm Women's Club was entertained by Mrs. Charles Hoffman Tuesday.

A coverdish dinner was served at noon with 13 members present.

The Scripture was read by Mrs.

Robert Cline and each person guessed the name of the Secret Neighbor the past year, and then they were revealed.

New secret neighbors were drawn for the coming year.

Gifts were brought for the children of each member and a gift was presented Mrs. Richard Gologram for her new daughter Sharon Sue.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ruth Baker Tuesday afternoon Jan. 22.

Girl Scout Troop met in the school building after school Tuesday with the president Nancy Hoyt in charge of the business and Connie Sanor receiving the dues.

Eileen Conkle gave a report of the last meeting. The gifts, which the girls have been making, were finished and put in the frames and varnished.

It was decided to hold the Christmas party Dec. 23 at the home of Susie Blythe. Louisa Hanna brought the treat.

The two primary classes of ages three to five years, of the Friends Church were entertained in the church basement Tuesday afternoon by the teachers.

Gifts were exchanged. Games were enjoyed and a lunch was served. Several mothers were in attendance.

The teachers of one class are Mrs. Ray Bardo and Mrs. Paul Cox and the teachers of the other class are Mrs. Melvin Hoffman and Mrs. Clarence Ellyson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Baker and children were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carrier and daughter of Alliance.

NEW OFFICERS WERE introduced at the Deming Girls Club Christmas dinner party Thursday evening at the First Christian Church.

Christmas appointments decorated the table laid for 66 guests. Each place was marked with a ceramic bell.

The 1958 officers are: President, Mrs. Donald Stokes; vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Lippitt; secretary, Miss Mary Ann Hinshaw; treasurer, Mrs. William Outland.

Retiring officers are Mrs. Mary Jayne Miller, Mrs. Stokes, Miss Elma Pemberton and Miss Yvonne Tiplon.

The program included group singing led by Mrs. Betty Moon, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Talbot; pantomime acts by Patty Ehrhart; and a style show by the men of Guilford Grange.

Special prizes were awarded to Mrs. Naomi Hart, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Outland, Mrs. Thelma Dahms, Mrs. Moon and Mrs. Dorothy Calvin.

Gifts were presented to the group by Santa Claus.

Jan. 16 is the next meeting date.

TWENTY MEMBERS of Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority attended its annual Christmas party Thursday evening at the Ruth Snucker House.

The program featured the presentation of "The Christmas Story" in colored slides, with Miss Mildred Hollett as narrator. Carols were sung during the program.

A visit from Santa Claus was a highlight of the evening.

The individual tables were laid with red and green appointments and centered with red candles encircled with holly. Ribbons and ornaments were attached to the place cards. Holly and pine surrounded the punch bowl placed on a glitter covered table.

Arranging the affair were Mrs. Norman Eckfield, Mrs. John Cabell, Mrs. Pat Sutherland, Mrs. Thomas Williams, and Miss Hollett.

The next meeting is Jan. 9.

SANTA CLAUS distributed gifts Thursday evening at the Christmas party given by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Donahue for residents of the Valley Road Nursing Home in Damascus.

A string trio presented musical selections and refreshments were served by Mrs. Donahue and staff nurses.

THE JUNIOR MOTHERS Club held its annual Christmas party Wednesday night at the Snucker House with 23 members present.

Mrs. Carl Thomas presided at the short business meeting when plans were completed for helping needy families.

A benefit card party was announced for Jan. 15 at the Snucker House. Proceeds will be given to the School for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Glenn Rupert of Columbia was guest speaker, and presented a cake decorating demonstration.

A gift exchange was featured during the evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Edward Butcher, Mrs. John Polio, Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Gordon Gibson.

THE ANNUAL Christmas party for members of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association and their families will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's School auditorium.

Santa Claus will be present, and a gift exchange is planned by the adults.

Members are urged to bring food for baskets for needy families.

"mas Apple" by Miss Lavilla Smart; and a movie, "The Spirit of Christmas."

Santa Claus distributed gifts to the children.

The next meeting is Jan. 16.

MR. AND MRS. Wade Schaefer of 1873 N. Ellsworth Ave. were hosts at a surprise party Monday evening at Goshen Grange Hall in honor of their daughter, Lois' 16th birthday anniversary.

Thirty-four guests were present from Youngstown Greenford North Georgetown and Salem.

Music was furnished by Miss Eleanor Bates with Edward Miller as caller for square dancing. John Kehr Jr. was in charge of the games.

The honoree received many gifts.

Mrs. John Kehr Sr. assisted the hosts when lunch was served. Christmas appointments were featured throughout the hall.

WILLIAM PUGH of RD 1, Salem will celebrate his 80th Christmas at his home on Teegarden Road. He is the father of eight children; 26 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild. Mrs. Pugh who is 65, will prepare the family dinner.

MRS. JOHN KREBS of 448 S. Madison St. was hostess at the Club 500 Christmas party Wednesday evening.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Earl Schory, Mrs. Robert Pasco and Mrs. Robert Lopeman. Gifts were exchanged by the members.

Mrs. Richard Jackson and Mrs. Richard Ehrhart assisted in serving refreshments. The home was decorated in the Christmas theme.

The Jan. 23 gathering will be at the home of Mrs. Lopeman at 1890 Monroe St.

THE FORUM CLASS Christmas party was an event of Thursday evening at Fellowship Hall in the First Presbyterian Church, with 143 members, their families and guests in attendance.

A covered dinner preceded the program. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Powell Schmauch, Mrs. Harry Kelley, Mrs. Kenneth Double, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wilhelm, and Mr. and Mrs. John Williams comprised the committee in charge.

The program consisted of group singing directed by Mrs. Walter Hofmeister; a story, "The Christmas Story"; and a play, "The Christmas Story."

Mrs. Portor was devotion leader and read from the Book of St. Luke, and part of the book, "Even As You and I" by Mrs. Raymond Kulow.

Special music was provided by the bell ringers of Westminster Presbyterian Church of Youngstown under the direction of Walter Horsley, minister of music of the church.

A play, "The Star's Light" was presented, and the cast included: Mrs. Padgett, Mrs. Vincent Crawford, Mrs. Steiner, Mrs. Bruce Frederick, Mrs. Wayne Brown, Mrs. William Tompkinson, Mrs. Evas Lipp, Mrs. Pim; and members of the Haviland Choir, with Mrs. Frank Huber directing.

Mrs. Wallace King and Mrs. Lionel Smith decorated the room in keeping with a pink, white and silver motif. White Christmas trees decorated the room, and silhouette paintings of the wise men shepherds graced the windows.

The 100 guests were served refreshments by the July and December groups with Mrs. Frederick, Mrs. Norman Smith, Mrs. King and Mrs. Floyd McQuilkin as chairmen.

The buffet table was laid with a white linen cloth with an organdy and watin skirt. Pink tapers in silver holders flanked the centerpiece which consisted of a white container of pink carnations, white pine and silver balls. Mrs. Laten Carter and Mrs. Harry Snyder presided at the silver service.

The next association meeting is Jan. 15.

Senior Citizens Santa Claus Project Report Is Presented

Most requested by boys were miniature trains while girls asked for dolls which cry, it was brought out in a report of the Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus telephone calling program carried out this season by the Senior Citizens Club.

Over 1,162 telephone calls were received by the club members during the project, it was announced at the Wednesday afternoon Christmas party of the club which was held in the Memorial Building.

A few of the interesting conversations Senior Citizens Club members had with children included numerous requests for brothers and sisters; the little girl who asked for nothing for herself, but bones for her dog; the child who asked for nothing but a "nice" Bible.

Club members maintained stations at the Memorial Building telephone to handle calls from boys and girls who voiced their gift desires to Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus. The project will continue until Monday.

Seventy three members enjoyed the party which was highlighted with the program presented by freshmen Y-Teens of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

Carol singing was led by Ruth Kekel, Beverly Costa and Dorothy Spack, accompanied by Linda Nestor.

A Christmas story was told by Ila Jean Davis, and Mrs. Fred Cope. Y-Teen advisor showed the movie, "The Littlest Angel."

A white tree decorated with red ornaments was surrounded by gifts which were exchanged by the members and distributed by Santa Claus, Dr. R. T. Holzbach, who visited the party. Faulette Severs, service chairman of Y-Teens, arranged the program.

Red and green tapers were placed on the green cloth at the luncheon table when the refreshments were served by members of the Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. Alphonse Falkenstein, Mrs. Irwin Merkin, Mrs. Jack Sarbin and Mrs. Hyman Chentow.

Assisting with serving were Dianne Karp, Natali Lederle, Sue Bare and Sharon Falls. The Y-Teen girls made favors for the affair which were given the club members.

The birthdays of Mrs. Maude Shears and Mrs. Carrie Gray were observed; and new members welcomed were Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Durham, Mrs. LaRue Vincent, H. L. Crumbaker, Mrs. Blaine McClaskey and Mrs. Allie Paxson.

Two Men to Answer Charges of Shooting State Patrolman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Buffalo, N.Y., men appear in Municipal Court here today to answer charges of intentionally shooting a highway patrolman.

The patrolman, Augustine P. Guiffre, is reported in good condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital after being wounded five times. He tried to halt an attempted break-in at a drive-in restaurant 10 miles west of here early Thursday.

The two men, James Stanley Myers, 26, and Walter John Jankowski, 23, were charged Friday with intentional shooting to kill, wound or maim.

They previously had been charged with burglary and grand larceny in connection with three break-ins here following the shooting.

In one of those break-ins, at a used car lot, they made off with a convertible. It crashed near Kirkersville in neighboring Licking County while two patrolmen pursued them, authorities said.

Myers captured at the wreck scene, later admitted that he shot Guiffre while the patrolman was holding Jankowski at gun point.

Jankowski escaped from the wreck, the patrol said, and was captured Thursday afternoon along a county road near Kirkersville.

The patrol said the two have admitted 15 to 20 burglaries in a month-long cross-country crime spree. Nine revolvers, taken in burglaries, and $1,500 in defense bonds stolen in Rochester, N. Y., have been recovered, the patrol said.

FIND FLARE PARACHUTE

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A railroad employe at nearby Outville thought he saw a pilot parachute from an airplane Friday. But investigation by the Highway Patrol turned up only a flare parachute near Outville. It apparently was dropped by a plane groping through overcast skies, the patrol said.

Dog Gone, Youngster Can't Eat, Sleep

Boy Wants 'Muggs' Back for Christmas

By LOIS WHITE

A week ago little Jimmy Carman could have mentioned hundreds of toys he would like to see appear beneath the tree Christmas morning. Today his only wish is to celebrate the holiday with his lost dog, Muggs.

Jimmy, eight-year-old second grader at Reilly School, was heartbroken Monday night when he returned from delivering a Christmas tree to a needy family and discovered that his 1½-year-old setter-springer was missing.

Jimmy lives at 173 W. Wilson St., the center of neighborhood play, largely because of the popularity of Muggs.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Leslie Carman, says Jimmy won't eat and can't sleep from worrying about Muggs who is medium size with a black, white and brown face and white body. Coal black "wings" are on his back, and his legs are spotted with black and brown fur.

The family believes that some kindly person has taken Muggs to his home. If the dog were let loose he would come home the Carmans are sure.

Muggs ran away Monday night about 5:30 while Jimmy and his parents were delivering the tree one of ten given Jimmy by his uncle to sell for the boy's Christmas gift expenses. Jimmy has already given away two of the trees he intended to sell because he heard that the children in the two families would otherwise be un-

Salvation Army Holds Celebration

Hurricane Audrey Survivors Feted At Christmas Party

CAMERON La. (AP)—A new faith in Santa Claus and the future is shining in once-devastated Cameron today, kindled by the biggest Christmas party this Southwest Louisiana town has ever seen.

Thronged visitors flocked around the courthouse to watch Cameron's happy children and proud adults at the huge Salvation Army party for the survivors of Hurricane Audrey.

Santa flew in from Baton Rouge to hand out more than 1,000 toys and almost that many packages of candy and fruit, donated by the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs and other groups.

The crowd of 1,200 jammed around the courthouse, singing Christmas carols as they took time out from the still-serious task of repairing and rebuilding after the June 27 hurricane that left 500 dead and missing.

Mrs. Francis Guilbeau, leading her four children to Santa, said the party was a lifesaver.

"If we had to do it ourselves it would have been much of a Christmas," she said.

Even with Red Cross and government help, rebuilding has been expensive.

But Cameron was proud to show off the results before the visitors, many of them rescue workers and newsmen who covered Audrey's devastation.

"We were growing when the storm hit us last June," Sheriff O. B. Carter said, "and we will continue to grow. And if there is will be back."

He said the town population was now about 1,200, compared to the 2,000 before Audrey struck, but more people are returning almost daily.

He said the oil, fishing and cattle industries were resuming. Cameron is the operations base for many offshore oil ventures and "The oil companies are back," Carter said.

The plants that process fish into fertilizer and livestock feed will resume operations in April, just like every year, he added.

Fences are being rebuilt by cattlemen, grass is coming out and some herds already are being restocked. Thousands of cattle were killed in the storm.

New and rebuilt houses are everywhere and most of the wreckage left by Audrey is gone.

'Any Allied Veto Won't Delay Missile Firing,' Say Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators said today that veto power by Britain or any other ally would not impede speedy use of U.S. ballistic missiles if it should ever become necessary to fire them from overseas bases.

Sens. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Mansfield (D-Mont.) agreed in separate interviews that prior negotiations will have settled questions of how and when missiles would have to be fired.

The British House of Commons Friday night approved decisions reached at this week's North Atlantic Alliance conference and agreed to installation of U.S. nuclear missile bases in Britain.

Prime Minister Macmillan told Commons prior to the 289-251 vote that Britain would have a complete veto over use of any missiles based in that country.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said the British "certainly should retain the right to reserve controls over firing since the outbreak of a missile war could certainly devastate their homeland."

Monroney said also he hopes the request of the British and other allies to keep the door open for disarmament talks will receive a "prompt and cooperative response from our State Department."

Mansfield said the British vote merely carried out the agreement that had been worked out in advance of the NATO session by the two nations. He added:

"I do not expect to find similar acceptance of the American missile plan in the rest of Europe, except Holland."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the relatively close British vote shows that "American foreign policy has become a domestic political issue in England, our greatest ally."

"We are hopeful that we have the ready cooperation of the British, but this vote proves that all the wounds are not yet healed," he added.

This was a reference to differences which developed between London and Washington over the British-French move into Egypt during the Suez Canal crisis last year.

In Oslo, a highly placed military source said Friday that Norwegian authorities are studying the possibility of equipping the country's armed forces with short-range atomic missiles.

mathematics education or in testing and guidance.

2. Passage of pending legislation to allow teachers to make income tax deductions for the cost of professional improvement such as work at summer school.

3. Continuation of such federal activities as vocational education, library services and school lunches "until it can be demonstrated that the need can be met from other resources."

James L. McCaskill, NEA legislative director, and William G. Carr, NEA executive secretary, said at a news conference the whole NEA program should be carried out through state channels.

The Van Wert County sheriff reportedly has a dog tag from an occupant of the plane. The tag indicates the person who wore it was an officer, possibly in the Marines. But identification was withheld.

A piece of leather jacket, like those used by pilots, also was found.

There was at least one witness to the crash, Mrs. Fred Cross, on whose farm the plane fell.

She said she saw it come down in flames and that it exploded when it hit the ground about 11:55 p.m.

Four Drivers Forfeit Bonds In Lisbon Court

LISBON — Four motorists forfeited bonds totaling $75 in Mayor Wilbur Warren's court Friday when they failed to appear for hearings on traffic charges. Another motorist was found not guilty after a hearing.

Forfeiting bonds were: Sylvania J. Mitchell, 39, of Lisbon RD 5, $25, speeding; Ralph M. Irons, Stanton Ave., Columbus, $15, failing to yield right of way; Edward D. Hawkins, 27, of Akron, $25, passing without the assured clear distance ahead; and Robert A. Ricky, also of Akron, $10, operating a car equipped with only one license plate.

George J. Neuch of Newell, W. Va., was acquitted of a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

Paul Hammett of 231 Pine St. pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge filed by his wife but mayor dismissed the charges after warning the couple.

Factors In Judging Christmas Lighting Displays Announced

The five judges for the annual Soem Lions Club Christmas Lighting Contest have announced that neatness, originality, and general overall appearance will be the determining factors in the awarding of the 24 prizes.

The grand prize for the best lighting display will be a $50 savings bond.

The judges, all of whom are non-residents of Salem, have occupations closely related to the lighting industry. Two are representatives of major lamp manufacturers, another an electrical contractor, one is an illumination engineer and the fifth is an architect.

The judging will take place Friday evening, Dec. 27. No Lions Club member is eligible for the prize.

Prizes will be awarded in the following categories:

1. City outside decorations.
2. Rural outside decorations.
3. City doorway.
4. Rural doorway.
5. Best Christmas tree display (that can be seen from the street).
6. Best religious display.

All residents of Salem and rural residents with an RD Salem mailing address are eligible to enter.

HEADLINERS OF 1957

BEGINS

RUSSIA FORCED AHEAD in the race into space, astounding scientists by launching two instrument-packed satellites. Sputnik II, a half-ton rocket-like vehicle, carried a live dog, Laika, pictured above in its air-conditioned chamber just before takeoff. Laika orbited millions of miles through space before succumbing some 10 days after Sputnik II was launched on Nov. 3. Sputnik I, a smaller 184 pound sphere, was launched Oct. 4. Earlier the Soviets claimed to have successfully tested an intercontinental ballistics missile and said they were planning a moon rocket.

BEFORE THE ATTACK, President Eisenhower accompanied his guest, King Mohammed V of Morocco, to Blair House in Washington. Twenty-four hours after this picture was taken the White House announced that the Chief Executive had suffered a cerebral attack.

SECOND CROSSING is success as the Mayflower II sails majestically into New York Harbor. The 180-ton vessel, a replica of original Mayflower, had journeyed from Plymouth, England, to Provincetown, Mass., in 53 days.

IT WAS A STORMY YEAR for labor as a special Senate committee conducted hearings on corruption in labor and management. Among the committee's targets were Dave Beck, above, and James Hoffa, his successor as president of the giant, 1,400,000-member Teamsters Union.

←"THE BOY IS ALIVE" was the joyful message flashed to an anxious nation on May 18, from Manorville, N. Y. Just hours before rescuers had all but given up hope of saving Benny Hooper, 7, who was entombed nearly 24 hours at the bottom of a 25-foot well shaft. Ordeal over, Benny is reunited with his father, Benjamin.

U.S. LAGGED behind in satellite race. Though rockets were being tested almost daily at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and preliminary tests of Vanguard, above, were successful, there was great disappointment when the first attempt to launch a U.S. satellite failed. Highly publicized launching was failure when a three-stage Vanguard, carrying "baby" moon, exploded on ground.

PAWN IN AN inter-faith custody battle, Hildy McCoy, 6, born a Catholic, was awarded to Jewish Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, who had adopted her as a tiny baby.

QUEEN ELIZABETH of England and her husband, Prince Philip, captured the hearts of everyone who saw them during a whirlwind trip to Canada and the United States. In Washington, the royal couple spent four days as the guests of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House. Highlights of their trip included a trip to College Park, Md., for the University of Maryland-North Carolina football game and an address by the Queen to the United Nations.

←UNLUCKY HORSESHOE was this residential street in Ruskin Heights, Mo., after it was ripped by one of year's tornadoes. Twenty-eight persons were killed, some 200 injured as the tornado swept through the suburban Kansas City area. Worst storm of the year, Hurricane Audrey, claimed 275 lives as it battered tiny Cameron on the Louisiana Gulf coast in late June.

INTEGRATION CAME to Little Rock (Ark.) Central High when President Eisenhower ordered paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division to escort nine Negro students to school in compliance with the integration order of a federal court. Earlier, violence had erupted when the Negroes attempted to attend classes. Students above are escorted by federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen.

ZHUKOV: Marshal Without an Army    ABEL: Soviet's Master Spy Jailed    GRAHAM: Crusader in New York    MEYNER: Won By a Landslide    METESKY: "Mad Bomber" Defused    CROSBY-GRANT: Something to Croon About    GIRARD: Receives Suspended Sentence    LEMAY: Sets Non Stop Record    FAUBUS: Called Out the Guard    EDEN: Now an Ex Prime Minister    KHRUSHCHEV: King of the Mountain

Quakers Ride Over Akron Garfield 58-47 For 4th In Row

Four Locals Score In Double Figures; Defensive Play Holds Foe to Two Goals In 3rd Frame

By GORDON ARNDT

Team effort, good rebounding by Lou Slaby and John Sturgeon, along with fine defensive play, combined to give the Salem Quakers a 58-47 win over the Akron Garfield Presidents Friday night in a game played in the Rubber City.

The win was the fourth straight this season for Salem while the defeat for the home team was its third in five starts.

The Quakers' team effort was indicated by the fact that four men scored in the double figures. Bill Pauline and Bob Platt each netted 14 points for the victors while Jim Meissner had 12 and Slaby, 10.

COACH JOHN CABAS started Slaby at one of the forward posts

MacKay Told Not to Go Near Tennis Court

MELBOURNE (U)—Barry MacKay, America's Davis Cup rookie who gets his big chance in the challenge round against Australia next week, was ordered not to go near a tennis court today lest he lose some of his fine edge through overwork.

"I told Barry I didn't want him to hit a ball," Capt. Bill Talbert said. "He's keen and hungry now and can't wait to get into a match. I would like for him to stay that way."

MacKay, who towers six feet, champion from Dayton, Ohio, moved into the important singles spot when Herbie Flam was dropped from the team because of illness.

America's chances of recovering the famous international trophy probably depends on his beating either Mal Anderson or Ashley Cooper, tournament toughened young aces who carry the banner for Australia.

Vic Seixas is the United States' other singles performer and on present form is a threat to win both his matches.

MacKay, who towers six feet, four inches, is down to his best playing weight of 185 pounds.

"I have been as low as 180 but I prefer my present weight," he said. "I feel stronger."

Since being named to the Davis Cup squad and faced with the probability of a singles assignment, MacKay has been the hardest working member on the team. He has practiced twice daily and has had to be ordered off the court. He winds up his day's training with wind sprints and a mile run.

Seixas, who also appears in the peak of physical and mental condition, had a long singles session today with 44-year-old Gardner Mulloy. He plans to take tomorrow off.

Malvern Edges United 53-49 In Overtime

The United High Golden Eagles lost their third game in six starts when they dropped a 53-49 overtime decision to the Malvern Hornets Friday night at Malvern.

The regulation game ended in a 48-48 tie. The Eagles were outscored 5-1 in the overtime session.

Whittington was the big gun for Malvern, netting 26 points. He hit on the tying field goal with just 10 seconds left in the regular game and then made four of the five points for the nets in the extra session.

Jim Sommers hit for 17 for United but fouled out in the early part of the fourth quarter, hurting the Eagles considerably.

The game was tied five times. United trailed 28-25 at the half, but Coach Bob Penrod's forces rallied for a 38-36 margin after three periods.

The United JV's, led by Wayne Ramsey's 11 markers, outscored the Malvern reserves 36-23.

The Golden Eagles next game is Jan. 3 at Leetonia.

UNITED — 49
Landsmith 3, 6, 12; Marks 1, 1, 3; Sommer 8, 1, 17; Taylor 2, 2, 6; Pike 1, 2, 4; Blanchard 3, 1, 7.

MALVERN — 53
Whittington 12, 2, 26; T. Romano 1, 2, 4; Andrews 5, 0, 10; Maske 1, 2, 4; Ferguson 2, 3, 7; Laubaucher 0, 1, 1; R. Romano 0, 1, 1.

Oregon's Football Team Leaves For Rose Bowl

EUGENE, Ore. (U)—Oregon's football team leaves today to set up its Rose Bowl training camp in Los Angeles.

The Ducks — 19-point underdogs for the Jan. 1 game with powerful Ohio State — will hold a light indoor drill before their scheduled afternoon departure by plane.

Coach Len Casanova said his 45-man squad includes first-team center Norman Chapman, who is making a satisfactory recovery from a knee injury suffered early in the season.

in place of Woody Deitch to give the Quakers added height against the Presidents whose starting five were all over six feet.

Slaby and Sturgeon carried the Quakers' rebounding strength after Pauline was taken from the game upon obtaining his fourth personal foul with 4:33 left in the third quarter. He did not return to action until 1:45 remained in the last period.

Salem's defensive tactics were emphasized in the third period when they held Akron to only six field goal attempts. The Presidents made but two field goals in that stanza.

Akron's offense was based around their players setting up screens for one another in back court in an attempt to get off a long jump shot. Their 6-6 center, Dave Hicks, was far from being effective in the pivot position. He scored but one point all night.

THE CONTEST STARTED off in a nip and tuck manner. The lead changed hands seven times in the first quarter and three times in the second.

The Quakers possessed a 10-5 budge with 4:07 left in the initial frame while Garfield was in front in the second period at 18-16 with 6:31 remaining.

Salem took the lead for keeps in the second canto when Slaby hit on a jump shot with 4:57 left. Salem threw a zone defense at their opponents to start the contest, but the Presidents still hit on their long jump shots to stay in the game.

Each squad played a deliberate style of ball whole on offense. Salem would wait for an opening while Akron would set up a screen for a shot.

The first quarter ended with Garfield in front 15-14.

SALEM TOOK A 23-19 lead when Pauline connected on his second straight bucket with about three minutes left in the first half.

Platt added a push shot and Meissner, a layup off the basket break for a 27-22 margin just before the half.

The intermission score was 27-24 for Salem following a two-point play by Harold Johnson of Garfield. The game was hard fought in the first half as both squads battled hard for rebounds and open shots.

Salem came out in the third period and scored five straight points to go ahead 32-24 with 5:30 left. The Quakers' close defensive play in the period prevented Akron from scoring until 5:23 was left in the period.

ADAMS REPLACED Pauline at 4:33 of the third quarter following the Quaker center's fourth personal.

Akron rallied to come back within two points at 34-32 with 3:30 left in the frame. Twice the Presidents scored on fast breaks after the Salem team had taken shots that never touched the rim of the basket.

At this point, Platt, Meissner and Slaby joined talents and boosted the Quakers into a 42-33 margin with two minutes left. The quarter ended shortly afterwards following a field goal by Adams that was sandwiched between six point scored by Akron's Bob Roeger and Johnson.

Roeger carried Akron's scoring punch as the southpaw's jump shot hit for 17 points to top all point getters.

Salem started with a rush in the final frame by canning the first eight points on field goals by Platt, Meissner, Deitch and Slaby. That made their lead 52-39, the biggest of the evening.

Akron did not score in the last quarter until 4:17 was left.

Akron continued to work for long jump shots in this quarter rather than trying for close in shots.

DEITCH HAD COME in for Adams in the fourth frame and he was replaced by Pauline with 1:45 left.

Salem had another 13-point lead at 58-45 with 0:25 left in the game and at that point Cabas substituted Clyde Marks Deitch Adams, Jim Lehwald and Ed Yates for Meissner, Platt, Pauline, Sturgeon and Slaby.

Danny Krichbaum was not at the game as he contacted a slight fever during the day.

He or Darryl Adams was to have started the game at forward instead of Deitch.

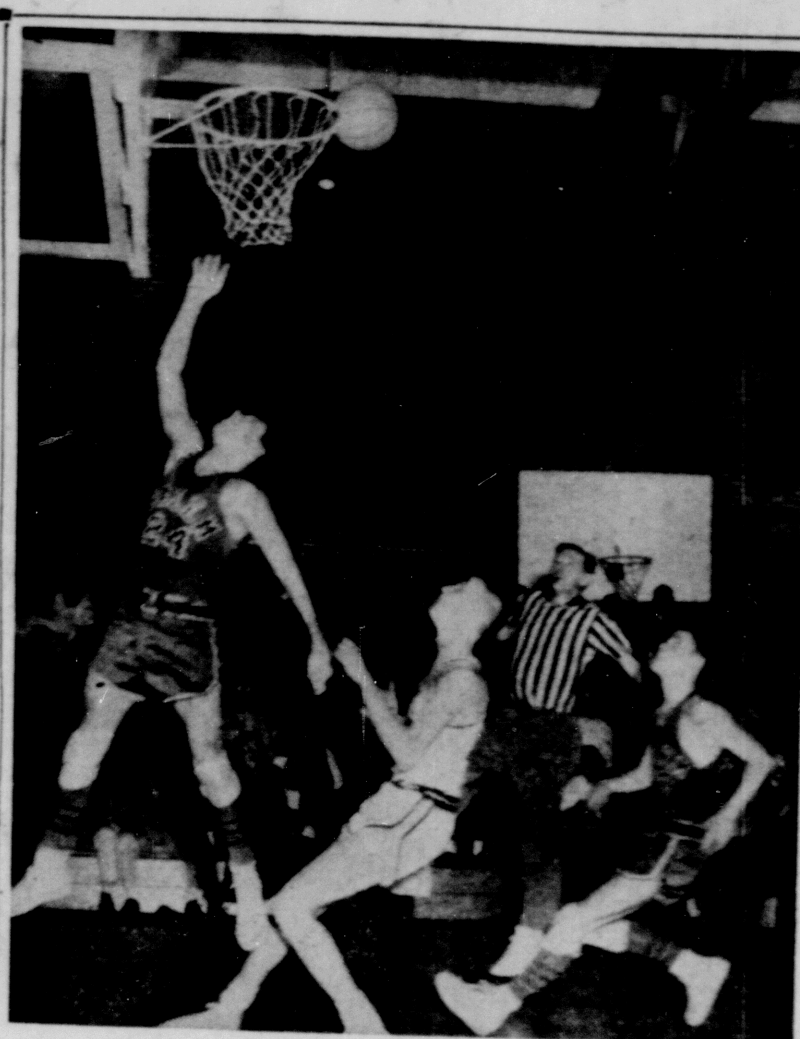

The Quakers hit on 22 of 62 shots for 35.5 per cent while Garfield made 17 of 59 shots for 28.8 per cent.

Salem hit a good percentage of its fouls, canning 14 of 18, while the home squad made 13 of 20.

The Quaker's next game will be at New Philadelphia Jan. 3. Their next home tilt is Jan. 10 with Warren Harding.

SALEM QUAKERS — 58
Sturgeon 1, 2, 4; Adams 1, 0, 2; Pauline 5, 14; Meissner 6, 0, 12; Platt 4, 6, 14; Slaby 4, 2, 10; Marks 0, 0, 0; Deitch 1, 0, 2; Lehwald 0, 0, 0; Yates 0, 0, 0.

AKRON GARFIELD — 47
Roeger 6, 5, 17; Heilmann 4, 2, 10; Hicks 0, 1, 1; Price 1, 3, 5; Johnson 6, 2, 14.

FOUR IN A ROW—The lead changed hands 10 times in the first half of the Salem-Akron Garfield game last night. In the top picture Jim Meissner is shown scoring a layup off the fast break in the second period. The other Salem player is Butch Platt who turned in a nice floor game and scored 14 points.

In the bottom photo, Lou Slaby (33) and John Sturgeon (27) battle for a rebound in the fourth period of the Quakers 58-47 win. In the foreground is Meissner. Other identifiable players from Akron are Dave Hicks (24) their 6-6 center, and Dick Heilmann (18).

West Virginia Posts 77-70 Decision Over Kentucky Five

By The Associated Press

North Carolina's fabulous Tar Heels jump out of the Big 10 frying pan into a Southern Conference fire tonight as they continue their toughest 24 hours since the National Collegiate basketball championships last March.

They're past part one of the two-part puzzle sprung on them by the Kentucky Invitation at Lexington, a battling 73-67 decision over Minnesota's Big 10 Gophers in last night's opener.

Now it's on to the finals with West Virginia's unbeaten Southern Conference perennial blocking the top-ranked Tar Heels' way to the championship and their 38th straight victory.

West Virginia is eminently qualified after whipping host Kentucky 77-70 for its seventh straight, Kansas, No. 2 in The Associated Press rankings, made it 6-0 last night with a 77-59 romp over Washington with Wilt Chamberlain scoring 37 for a season's total of 197 and a per game average of 32.8. That was the second game of a doubleheader at Lawrence, following a 58-44 victory for third-ranked Kansas State, now 6-0, over California.

Cincinnati, No. 4, continued its team challenge and the Bearcats' sprightly soph, Oscar Robertson, his individual bid in a 94-53 rout of North Texas. Robertson, runner-up to Chamberlain for scoring honors, boosted his average to 32.0 with 37 points.

The San Francisco Dons, seventh in the last reckoning, defeated Seattle, No. 12, behind Gene Brown 60-51 to reach the finals of the Blue Grass tournament at Louisville against the host Louisville Cardinals, 66-61 winners over Army.

Freshman Jackie Moreland's two clutch baskets in the last three minutes enabled Louisiana Tech to join Alabama in the Carrousel tournament finals at Charlotte. Unbeaten Tech, wing its sixth, bounced previously unmarked Tennessee 66-61 while Bama defeated Louisiana State, 60-50.

UCLA, unbeaten when it left home a few days ago, took its second straight road whipping, this one 67-43 from 11th-rated Bradley. Unbeaten Utah won its fifth, 65-49 from Stanford, the only club able to beat San Francisco. Texas Tech, on Gene Arrington's one-handed, won a battle of unmarked Tennessee 66-61 while Bama defeated Louisiana State, 60-50.

Pittsburgh enters the finale with a 5-6 mark. The Cards have 3-8, beatens from Santa Clara, 68-67.

Columbiana Rolls Over N. Springfield

The Columbiana Clippers had no trouble Friday night defeating New Springfield in a basketball game played on the Clippers' floor. The score was 53-38.

Columbiana took a 12-8 first-quarter lead and padded its margin in each succeeding period. The score at the half was 24-18, and at the three-quarter mark, 38-29.

Bill Russell paced the victors with 15 points. John Murphy netted 11 for the Clippers and Jim Poulton, 10.

Dave Ohlin sparked New Springfield's attack with 18 points, the highest individual total for the night.

Columbiana now has a 2-1 record for the season.

The Columbiana Reserves won their contest 34-28.

The Clippers' next game will be next Friday night against Canfield there.

Boyd Wins Decision Over Charles Joseph

NEW ORLEANS — Whip-muscled Bobby Boyd, a 25-year-old Chicago bomber, parlayed a powerful right and advantages in reach and height Friday night to trim Charles Joseph, a 26-year-old part-time barber.

The 10-round bout had the crowd of nearly 5,000 screaming from the opening bell, with Boyd taking charge from the start. His right hand wallops had Joseph in trouble in the early sessions and a wide cut opened over his left eye in the fourth hampered Joseph's vision in the late stages.

Joseph, rated seventh by Ring Magazine and 10th by the National Boxing Assn., rallied after taking the early beating and gave Boyd all he could handle in the seventh and eighth round.

Gasco's, Herron's, Speaker's Win City League Cage Games

In four Class B city league basketball games played Friday night in the Memorial Building, Gasco's beat Petrucci's 44-40, Herron's nipped Bunn's 53-50, Chappell's defeated Foreman's 57-49, and Speakers crushed Charley's 53-40.

Ken Woods hit for 13 points and Jim Kelly for 12 in Gasco's win. Marty Lutsch had 14 for the losers.

Gasco trailed 28-24 going into the fourth period but rallied with 20 markers to cop the verdict.

Herron Transfer tallied 19 points in the second quarter of its game with Bunn's to come from a 20-11 first quarter deficit to a 30-28 half time lead.

George Alex scored 20 points for the winners, aided by fine floor play by Jack Halderman. Bill Crookston added 15 to the winners cause.

Art Hawes of Bunn's took game scoring honors with 20 markers.

A 21 point barrage by high scoring Dick Beall led Chappell's over Foreman's. For the winners Matt Klein added 16 and Bill Shuster, 12.

Ed Senior had 16 and Dave Williams, 15 for the losers.

Chappell's trailed 41-38 after three periods but came to life in the final canto with 19 points while holding Foreman's to 8.

Sixteen markers by Mark Weber and 14 more by the smooth Bob "Deak" DeCrow led Speaker's past the unwinding Charley's quintet.

The victors posted a 26-11 half time margin and built it to 38-19 into the fourth quarter.

Bill Edgerton collected 15 for the losers.

PITTSBURGH STATE To Meet Hillsdale

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U)—Two undefeated small college teams—Hillsdale of Michigan and Pittsburgh State of Kansas—met today in the Holiday Bowl football game. At stake is the National Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. championship.

The contest starts at 12:30 p.m. (CST) and will be televised nationally (CBS).

Pittsburgh has relied almost entirely on the power running of halfbacks Charles Norris and Dick Adomson for its scoring punch.

Quarterback Doug Maison of Hillsdale has one of the best passing records in the nation and halfback Walt Poe gives the Michigan team a solid running attack. Maison completed 64 of 104 passes for 1,292 yards and 15 touchdowns this season. Poe scored 54 points and averaged better than five yards per carry.

Hillsdale is a one touchdown favorite.

Nats Hand 122-113 Defeat to Royals

By The Associated Press

Teams have scored more points but few can match the accuracy shown by the Syracuse Nationals Friday night in downing the Cincinnati Royals 122-113 in a National Basketball Assn. game.

The Nats, with long John Kerr registering 42 points, connected on 50 percent of their shots from the floor, as they made good on 47 of 94 attempts. The NBA teams this year have been hitting a 37 1/2 per cent clip.

The 40 points scored by the Nats in the first period was one shy of the league record for an opening quarter: hung up by Milwaukee against Boston in 1955.

Kerr, a former Illinois great who never has averaged more than 13.3 points a game in his three seasons of pro basketball, came within three points of matching the season's high of 45 made by St. Louis' Bob Pettit against Cincinnati Nov. 1.

Deitch Paces Salem With 20 Markers

Paced by the sparkling offensive play of Woody Deitch, the Salem High JV's racked up their fourth straight win of the season Friday night by beating the Akron Garfield reserves 53-47.

Deitch hit for 20 points on nine field goals and two fouls. He was highly effective with a jump shot from the key hole.

Helping in the young Quakers' drive was 16 markers by Jim Lehwald and 14 by Clyde Marks. Valaska had 15 for the losers.

The game was close all the way, as Salem had to contend with two Akron JV's who both measured over 6-4.

Salem played a well balanced game hitting on 33 of 62 shots for 53 per cent. They lacked luster at the foul line, however, by making only 7 of 19 shots.

Salem trailed 6-5 at the quarter but held the lead 23-18 at the half.

San Francisco Dons To Meet Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—The San Francisco Dons, a slow-down-and-score ball club, meets defending champion Louisville tonight in the finals of the Bluegrass Holiday Festival basketball tournament.

The consolation game pits Seattle against Army.

The Dons turned back their West coast neighbor, Seattle 60-51 in an offense versus defense battle Friday night while Louisville was hard pressed to eliminate Army, 66-61 in the opening round.

Tar Heels Come From Behind To Defeat Minnesota 73-67

LEXINGTON, Ky. — North Carolina perched atop the national basketball standings, faces its sternest challenge this year—West Virginia—tonight in the finals of a tournament loaded with prestige. Carolina came from behind in the last six minutes to beat Minnesota, 73-67, Friday night in the first round of the University of Kentucky Invitational. Unbeaten West Virginia choked off a Kentucky rally to defeat the host club, 77-70, and gain the other title berth.

Kentucky, now 4-3 although ranked No. 5 nationally, meets 10th rated Minnesota, which took its first loss after three wins, for third place in the first game of tonight's twin bill.

North Carolina, which had rolled to four comfortable victories this year, got fine work from Pete Brennan, Lee Shaffer and Tommy Kearns to nip ever-threatening Minnesota and stretch its two-season winning string to 37.

Hot-shooting West Virginia (7-0) built a big first half lead over Kentucky on the work of 6-10 Lloyd Sharrar and Bob Smith to hand Kentucky the first first-round loss it ever suffered in its own meet.

Shaffer scored 19, Brennan 27 and Kearns 16 as Carolina, down 37-36 at the half and 62-61 with 5:21 left, pulled away in the closing minutes. Ronald Johnson, 6-7 Minnesota sophomore, topped all scorers with 28 points and grabbed 27 rebounds.

West Virginia led by 47-32 at the half, going off with a 50 per cent shooting mark.

New Orleans — Bobby Boyd, 16½, Chicago, outpointed Charley Joseph, 15½, New Orleans, 10.

Gale Kerwin Decisions Jimmy Archer

NEW YORK — Gale Kerwin may go far or he may fizzle out. But one thing sure, his light won't be hidden under a bushel.

The likeable Canadian born boxer who now lives in Valley Stream, N.Y., was outspoken in his own behalf Friday night after he won a decision over Jimmy Archer at Madison Square Garden.

"I'm a hell of a puncher and I know it," said Kerwin. "Only trouble, I was too polite."

Kerwin's punch was enough to earn an official knockdown over the New Yorker who used to work on the docks. He sent Archer half through the ropes in the seventh with a solid right hand.

Both judges voted for Kerwin—Harold Barnes 5-4 and Nick Gamboli 6-3-1—both Referee Mark Conn called it all even in round 5-5, and points, 6-6. The AP card was 6-3-1 for Kerwin in this battle of 22-year-olds.

Although Kerwin weighed 142½ and Archer 147½, the winner wants to campaign as a lightweight in the future.

Kerwin scored often with clean counter punches and also drove home several right hand leads. For a fighter who was supposed to be strictly a left hooker, he showed plenty of right hand.

"I've been working on the right all along," he said. "I used to depend too much on the hook."

As for the future, Kerwin says he has seen all the top lightweights and he can "lick 'em all." Manager Al Land is more cautious.

"We're in no hurry," said Land. "I have a very fine prospect but he's a little green yet. I want to bring him along slowly against the right opponents."

Rebels Score 3rd Victory In 6 Starts

Fairfield - Waterford picked up its third cage victory of the 1957-1958 campaign against as many setbacks last night when it downed North Beaver Township of Pennsylvania 59-5 on the Rebels' floor.

The Rebels built up a nine-point, 23-14 lead in the opening canto, and were in front 37-29 at the half. After trailing 48-38 with only a quarter to go, North Beaver put on a determined but unsuccessful rally.

Pipe and Eisenwein, with 14 and 11 markers, respectively, led the Fairfield-Waterford attack. Barnes pushed 13 through the nets for North Beaver Township.

The Fairfield-Waterford Jayvees also won, nipping their foes 47-43.

Springfield will be the next adversary of the Rebels, when they play on Monday.

Businessmen Urged To Take Part In Exercise Program

Salem businessmen who want some exercise and a chance to get away from the daily routine of office work are urged to take part in the men's recreational program held every Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 5 at the Memorial Building.

We have had very small turnouts at our Wednesday meetings, but we hope to increase interest in the program during the Christmas season," Rusty Tomlinson, assistant manager of the Memorial Building, said Friday.

The classes will not meet on Christmas Day or New Year's Day, both of which fall on Wednesday, but will get back in a regular schedule Jan. 8, Tomlinson said.

The weight reducing exercises available include basketball, ping-pong, badminton, handball and many others.

All that must be done in order to join the program is to go to the Memorial Building on Wednesday and sign up," Tomlinson concluded.

Gophers Play Again Tonight

Goshen Edges Lisbon 57-55 For Fifth Victory of Season

The Goshen Gophers racked up their fifth victory in six starts this season when they edged the Lisbon Blue Devils 57-55 Friday night in a cage contest played on the Gophers' floor.

Goshen jumped off to a three-point lead, 20-17, in the first period.

However, the Blue Devils chopped five points off the lead in the third stanza to make the score 45-41 going into the final frame. The winners staved off the Lisbon rally in the last period to eke out the victory.

Bob Stallsmith was high scorer for the Gophers with 18 markers. Wayne Walters netted 12 points for the winners, and Ron Wyss, 10.

Dave Pike paced the Blue Devil squad with 13 points. He was followed by Ray Lee who netted 12.

The defeat gave Lisbon a 1-1 record this season.

The Blue Devil Reserves won the preliminary contest 39-35.

Goshen's next game will be at home tonight against the Leetonia Bears.

GOSHEN — 57 Stallsmith 7, 4, 18; Wyss 4, 2, 10; Walters 3, 2, 12; Hill 3, 2, 8; Walters 3, 2, 12.

The team was selected on present and former conference coaches and midwest newspapermen. They nominated a total of 40 players for either the first or second team.

Others on the first team were Andy Philip of Illinois, Don Schundt of Indiana and Chuck Darling of Iowa.

Wooden, a star from 1930-1932, was a first team choice on all but one ballot.

Named to the second team were Bob Leonard, Indiana; Dick Schmittner and Robin Freeman, Ohio State; Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan; and Jewel Young, Purdue.

The third team: Murray Wier, Iowa; Bill Harlow, Chicago; Branch McCracken, Indiana; John Townsend, Michigan and John Koz, Wisconsin.

Others who received first team votes were Charles Carney and Lou Boudreau, Illinois; Ernie Andres and Archie Dees, Indiana; Carl Cain, Iowa; Dick Garmaker and Morris Skoog, Minnesota; Max Morris, Northwestern; Paul Ebert and Tippy Dye, Ohio State; Glen Harneson, Purdue; and Gene Engund, Chris Steinmetz and Rolie Williams, Wisconsin.

Many of the honor players still are active in sports. Wooden is the U.C.L.A. cage coach. Oosterbaan is football coach at Michigan. McCracken is Indiana basketball coach. Harlow is supervisor of Big Ten cage officials.

RAPHAEL the Herald Angel

By DAVID APPEL and MERLE HUDSON

CHAPTER 3

It is one thing to be a musician and another to deliver a speech before all the choirs of Heaven.

On the night before the first rehearsal, Raphael sat alone in his office, his fingers drumming nervously on his desk. Scraps of paper littered the floor; on each of them he had tried unsuccessfully to outline the talk he knew he must make the following morning.

It was urgent, he felt, that each of the angel singers understand the deep importance of the mission assigned by the Heavenly Father. Raphael wondered whether he should ask Michael to deliver the speech for him. Or perhaps one of the elders.

But no — this was his responsibility. And so, far into the night, Raphael wrote his speech, and then rehearsed it just outside the Gates, where there were only clouds and stars to hear him.

THE NEXT MORNING, tired but confident, Raphael walked toward the field where the choirs were to meet. He had gone only part of the way, however, when he came upon the three cherubs who attended his Echo Choir class.

"Good morning, Herald Angel!" piped the first cherub.

"May we help you carry your papers..." trilled the second. "...and your baton?" warbled the third.

"Thank you, children," the choir-master said. "That is very kind of you. Very thoughtful."

Gratefully, Raphael turned his possessions over to the cherubs, proceeded to the field, and mounted the gentle slope from which he would address the singers of Heaven. Assembled before him, eager and aglow, were the five angelic choirs. All bowed their heads in prayer, their golden halos and golden wings gleaming in the sun.

RAPHAEL LOOKED UP a moment later.

"My notes, please," he whispered to the three cherubs.

"We were playing in a cloud..." piped the first.

"...and put them down just for an instant..." trilled the second.

"...but the cloud has blown away!" warbled the third.

No notes! How, then, could the choir-master find words for all that he had hoped to explain? How could he describe the Promise made when God created the world? Or tell how wonderful yet how complex a creature is man, how sometimes he does not know what is best for him?

Well thought Raphael, I can only try!

"All of us," he began, "are our Father's children. Here in Heaven there is not a moment when we are not surrounded by His love."

RAPHAEL'S VOICE FALTERED, but in the field the choirs listened with reverent expectancy.

"We angels of the Beautiful City know that His love has no bounds. On earth however, there are many men and women, and even little children, who are not aware of our Father's sweet compassion."

Raphael stood straight, his robes flowing in long lines.

"Fellow angels — our Father is about to give His beloved Son as a Gift to man, so that they may all come to know the wonder of His way. And you and I have been entrusted to deliver this wondrous message to the world."

"We have been chosen to proclaim the birth of a prince — the Prince of Peace — from the Heavens. And because of our message, because of the songs we shall sing, mankind will come to know, accept and love God's Offering."

"HOW GLORIOUS!" chorused the angels. "How blessed we are!"

"Well then," said Raphael with all the briskness he could muster, "let us begin our rehearsal. To your places, everyone!"

"Jubilee Chorus, stay right where you are. Hallelujah singers, I want you farther to my right. Angelus — a little closer, please. Vesper singers — back and to the left, if you will."

"Now, cherubim — will you be kind enough to hand out the music? It's all marked for each choir. And then hurry back to your places. No mischief on the way, either!"

In a few moments the choirs were in their places. The Herald Angel raised both hands, calling for the rapt attention of the singers. Alert, anxious to perform correctly, they waited. Lemuel, the tenor soloist, stepped forward.

"Fear not," he sang. . .

Fear not, fear not! for behold I bring you good tidings. . .

Lemuel's bell tones lingered in the air. Then Raphael brought his arms down in a sweeping gesture, a mighty signal to begin.

No angel in Heaven is likely ever to forget that moment. Messengers hovered, transfixed in the air. Scribes dropped their pens in astonishment. Elders looked about in amazement. And Raphael clapped his hands to his ears.

IT WAS AWFUL! The Hallelujah Choir was singing music so high and shrill that their voices broke in squeaks and squeals. The Angelus Chorus rumbled, grumbled and growled. The Vesper singers couldn't even stay in unison, each one struggling lamely to adjust to the unfamiliar key and style of the music that had been placed before him. The cherubim. . .

Suddenly, each voice faded; and each head automatically turned toward the front row, where the Cherubim Choir sat, quiet as clouds on a windless morning, looks of pure innocence on every cherubic face, every cherubic eye fixed steadily on the choir-master, dutifully awaiting his instructions.

Raphael spoke with a patience he did not at that moment feel. "In the future," he quietly announced, "there shall be a few passages which cherubim of the responsibility of distributing the music!"

WHEN AT LAST each choir had received its proper pages, the Herald Angel again raised his arms high, and at his command the multitude of Heavenly voices burst forth:

Glory, glory to God in the highest!

This time it was even more beautiful than Raphael had expected. The ringing notes filled the Heavenly City, and now angels feasted on the wondrous music. One angel led into another; the music rose in crescendo to the peak where Raphael knew the message should be announced:

Good will to men!

The hymn was sung and the rehearsal was over; and Raphael could scarcely find a fault. There had been a few passages which could have glowed a bit more, but he knew that all would be perfect with only a little practice. After all this was the first time the choirs had sung together.

ONLY LEMUEL was not pleased.

"Raphael," he said, "I must have a word with you."

"Yes, Lemuel?"

"The music was beautiful."

"I am glad."

"But you have paid so much attention to the music, Raphael, that you haven't thought how we will look to the people on earth."

"We'll look like angels, of course," the choir-master replied.

"No, no!" the tenor said impatiently. "That's not what I mean. Try to remember how pretty a sight it is to see the cherubim perform on a golden morning. Each beautiful little angel is circled in a halo of sunlight. Or watch the Vesper Choir, silhouetted against the violet hues of the sky at sunset."

"Raphael, we must be sure that the Heavenly singers are not only marvelous to hear, but glorious to see."

"Lemuel," the Herald Angel declared, "I don't know how I'd manage without you! What a splendid idea!"

BACK IN THE Beautiful City, the two angels learned that the skies were indeed going to be at their most magnificent on the night the Gift was given. The constellations would glimmer and gleam. The winds would be at their softest. And one star of burning beauty would shine and shimmer high above a little town on earth named Bethlehem.

"The darkness itself shall be comforting. Clouds will gather like silver draperies across the sky. And we singers," Lemuel exclaimed, "will take our places behind those clouds."

Can't you see how beautiful it will be?" cried Raphael. "The moment the Child is born, you, Lemuel, will walk through the clouds alone. Rays of silver and white from this glorious star of wonder will shine upon you."

"You will sing slowly, my friend, and lovingly, comforting, soothingly, 'Fear not' — and then you'll pause — 'Fear not.'"

"Sing the entire passage twice, to give mankind time to assemble, to look up to the heavens and listen. Then the winds, soft and steady, will draw back the curtain of clouds — and behold! the Heavenly Choir will be revealed, singing in splendor!"

Raphael paused, and smiled quietly at his friend.

"You have given me one more idea. But I cannot discuss it yet!"

THE SECOND rehearsal was thoroughly satisfactory — except, of course, for one interruption.

All had gone well until the Jubilee Chorus rose to sing; indeed, the day remained peaceful until the trumpet accompaniment began. Then at once it became painfully obvious that somehow the cherubim, even under the watchful eyes of the angel choirs, had stuffed stardust into the golden horns.

Dust sprayed here and there, singers sputtered, coughed, sneezed and wheezed. Stardust landed on eyebrows, flickered on eyelashes, glistened from wings, and covered the pages of music.

When order was restored, Raphael asked the angel choirs to repeat the portion of their hymn which began with the words, "Glory to God in the Highest."

It was plain from the way he spoke that he was not displeased, but was simply considering some innovation. Thereafter, at each of the rehearsals, the singers were instructed to repeat this phrase.

SEVERAL OF THE more observant angels noticed that whenever they sang these six beautiful words a second time, Raphael would slowly turn sideways. Only his left side now faced the Heavenly Choir, yet he still directed the singers as enthusiastically as ever with both hands.

"Puzzling, isn't it?" asked an alto.

"I've never seen a conductor do such a thing before," replied a harpist.

"Did you notice," asked a bass, "that this sideways gesture always comes promptly at the end of the closing passage? I wonder what is in his mind when he does that."

What the angel chorus did not yet know was that their director was preparing for a moment he was sure would arrive.

In his imagination, Raphael could picture great multitudes looking up from earth as the clouds drew aside. He could see their faces shine with joy and trust as they heard Lemuel reveal the coming of the Son. He visualized the rapture with which they would fall to their knees to thank God for His precious Gift. And as their hearts opened, the Herald Angel believed, men would want to join with the angels in singing, "Glory to God in the Highest."

SHOWS APPRECIATION — Dr. Stanley Hanley, center, a Columbus, Ohio, electronics engineer, who with his wife gave Wittenberg College $1,000,000, chats outside the Springfield, Ohio, school with two professors, who, he says, gave him a big push to success. Earlier, Dr. Hanley, president of the Power Equipment Company, had given Wittenberg $167,000, $37,500 of it for funds honoring Dr. Charles G. Shatzer, left, dean emeritus, and Dr. E. O. Weaver, right, professor emeritus of physics. Dr. Shatzer, he says, gave him "fatherly advice," and Dr. Weaver helped him borrow the $200 he needed to complete his senior year in 1923. In giving the unrestricted gift, Dr. Hanley said, "I am merely trying to show once again the sincere appreciation I have for all that has been done for me."

RAPHAEL WOULD BE ready! During the closing passage, he would turn toward earth. . .

With one arm he would lead the Hallelujah Choir, the Vesper Chorus, the Jubilee singers, the Angelus Choir and the Cherubim Choir. . .

With the other, he would lead all mankind as they blended their voices with the angels in song.

What a finale it would make for this momentous event! What a miracle of love it would be! How pleased the Lord would be with all His children!

But this was Raphael's secret. He held it close and told no one.

NEXT: A special day in the Beautiful City.

Cub Pack 2

Cub Pack 2 of the First Methodist Church held a pack meeting and Christmas party Wednesday evening at the church. Chairman Dan Babb presided.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag. Each den had its own den flag, and the cubs of each den sat with the parents in separate groups.

Floyd Craig led the group singing, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Craig.

The scout colors of blue and gold were the colors of the lights on the stage. Each cub placed a decoration he had made at den meeting on the tree.

Den 3 presented a skit, "A Birthday Cake." Cubs taking part were Ronnie Rich, Larry Hilliard, Ricky Kilbreath, Dwight Billman, James Dean, John Dangle, Gary Getz. Mrs. Fred Rich is den mother.

Mr. Babb introduced the committee members, Arthur Beech, advancement; Russell Limestahl, finance; Joe Skrivaniak, webelos chairman; Bob Tullis, activities; and Lee Boone, institutional representative.

He also introduced the den mothers, Mrs. Stroh Caldwell, Mrs. Rich, Mrs. Lester Marshall, Mrs. Andrew Pierack, Mrs. Arthur Beech, Mrs. Donald Rinard and Mrs. Joseph Swetwey.

The boys formed a large circle and exchanged gifts.

Arthur Beech presented the following awards: Bobcat, Randall Keefe, Richard Metts, Donnie Charnesky, Charles Marple, Frank Beeson, Lynn Kelley, Thomas Sheets, Michael Sheets, Raymond McNutt, Dwight Billman.

Wolf emblem, gold and silver arrows, Freddie Shilling; wolf emblem and gold arrow Mark Phillips, Walter Johnson, Raymond McNutt and James Hayes; wolf gold arrow, Leroy Beech; wolf silver arrow, Tommy Wright, Richard Davis, Andy Piriak. Bear emblem and gold arrow, Dale Shasteen; lion emblem and gold arrow, Frank Floding; lion silver arrow, Richard Rinard, Andy Piriak, Dale Shasteen, Edward Konnerth and Terry Boone each received one year service stripe. and Frank Floding received a two-year service star. Tommy Wright received an assistant denner stripe.
